Media of the Month: Puppets

The Pella Community Services Art Center After School classes designed puppets for Media of Month—January 2021.

Puppets come in all shapes and forms. This year we explored hand puppets, clothespin puppets and accordion puppets. Three very different styles of puppet making. Students individually designed and created their puppets within each puppet type.

Encouraging this type of customization means each puppet has it's own identity that follows each students vision of the finished projects.

Can I send a snack for my child?

It's a long time between lunch and when Art Center ends, so think of including an easy-to-eat snack for your child to eat when they get to the Art Center.

Art Center Tip

As the weather gets colder, send your child with a short sleeve shirt under their long sleeve shirt. That way they can take the long sleeve one off and won't be too warm under their paint shirt. Backpacks, jackets and boots are also a frequently forgotten item in the Art Center. We try to remind students to retrieve their belongings before leaving.

Class Cancellations:

If Pella Public School is cancelled for weather, so is the Art Center!
